

Voter ID at polling stations

The next time you go to vote at a polling station you must take photo ID (identification) with you

Photo ID is an official card or document with your name and photograph on it – it's used to prove who you are

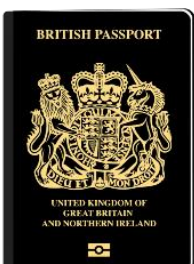

You will need to show your photo ID before you are given a ballot paper

A ballot paper is a form that lists the people you can choose to vote for

Not many people with LD have photo ID

If you have a passport you can use it as your photo ID

If you don't have a passport you can use

- your freedom pass
- your citizen card
- or your voter authority certificate

If your photo ID is out of date you can still use it – but the photo on the ID must still look like you

You do not need photo ID if you

- apply to vote by post
- or have someone to vote for you

Click on the link below for more information about photo ID you can use at the polling station

Voter ID at polling stations

<https://camden.gov.uk/en/voter-id-at-polling-stations>